Where are they now?

After spending two years in England, Faye returned to Australia and began her career as a professional coach. Faye initially coached squash at the Norwood & Newcombe Squash Centres in the early 1970s before returning to Saints Girls as a full-time tennis coach from 1976 - 1987. Faye then continued to coach part-time in the Middle School from 1993 - 1996.

Faye's husband, Bryce, was the chair of the School's Parents and Friends Association before being appointed to the School's inaugural Board of Governors in 1986 and her two daughters also attended Saints Girls.
